PROFILE ANGUS & HAZEL WYLIE

Angus was born in Grovedale and started attending Barwon Heads Primary School before moving to Minyip where his father became a wheat farmer. After school Angus joined his father working on the farm until he joined up for the war. He served 5 years in the Pacific Islands in the Z Special group (spies as he called them). Returning to the farm he married his childhood sweetheart Mavis and raised 5 children. He moved to Drysdale 27 years ago to be closer to family and to be able to assist his disabled son, who lives a very active life supporting the disabled community. Angus has always been a church member—first as Presbytery, then Methodist, then Uniting. As a young man he wanted to be a minister and enjoyed leading worship. He regularly preached at two services of a Sunday before going off to war. Farm and family stopped that idea but not his conviction and dedication to God. At Drysdale he served as an Elder, assistant to the minister and a member of the Property board. He is pleased to note that every room in the church complex bears some of his woodworking. Now as a 93 year old he still works in his tool shed turning wood and making magnificent pieces for grandchildren. He is currently working on a revolving dolls house.

Hazel was born in Leeds Yorkshire, 82 years ago, but she's not yet 21 due to leap years. After marrying she was the housewife looking after husband and 3 daughters. They migrated to South Australia in 1975. With her husband not able to get the job he expected Hazel worked as Secretary for Master Builders, Adelaide and then at the hospital. True to commitment she became a Brownie Guide Leader in Kapunda. Hazel attended the Church of England in England and then the Anglican church in SA without taking on any specific roles; but she has always contributed as we have seen at Drysdale by being a welcomer, offering steward and reader.

Angus and Hazel met up on holiday in Tasmania, both determined that a new marriage was not for them—6 months later they were married in a Uniting Church in SA; that was 24 years ago. Hazel enjoys knitting and reading and works well with Angus decorating his woodwork with decoupage or dolls house fit out.

They have 19 grandchildren and 11 great children, who they really enjoy.

CHRISTMAS SHOEBOXES

Jenni Nickelson is encouraging us all to contribute to this year’s Shoebox appeal. You can take a shoebox to fill or provide some items to go into a shoebox or contribute towards the $10 postage cost. All boxes are needed by the end of September. Last year we sent 56 boxes, so our challenge is to do better than that.

Boxes are made for boys and girls of different age groups. Items to include are:

- ◆ Something to love
 - ◆ Something to play with
 - ◆ Something to wear
 - ◆ Something for school
 - ◆ Something special
- No food items
 - No liquids or toothpaste
 - No war or gambling toys

SYNOD 2014— 19-23 September

This year’s Synod theme is ‘Movement and Rest’. The lectionary for Sunday 21 September includes Exodus 16 and Matthew 20. They show that people have always grumbled. Yet a vision based on the church’s faith, that Jesus embodies, inaugurates and fulfils God’s promised reign in the marketplace of life, will provide an opportunity to take time to rest. Please pray for the Synod members.
